Career Services

Helping students explore, develop, and advance their careers

As you help students expand their perceptions, develop critical thinking skills, and challenge the status quo, Career Services is ready to connect them with potential employers, internship opportunities, and effective job search strategies. We're here to partner with faculty on translating academic programs into possible job and professional development opportunities, thus connecting your classroom to the workplace. In addition, Career Services offers in-class customized presentations for your class, both on-campus and online, to all faculty members. No need to cancel class...Career Services can augment with a menu of relevant topics. Please visit the "Faculty" link on the Career Services website for more information. #don'tcancelclass

Career Services

Guest Sessions:

Career Services offers faculty an additional “value add” to their curriculum that can further connect your coursework and students with current workplace relevancy.

What Faculty are Saying:

“Every semester I ask Deborah to come in to speak to our graduating BLA seniors in our Humanities Capstone course, and every time the students are grateful for taking away an understanding of how to better market their interdisciplinary degree in order to apply to specific graduate programs or careers. The students leave with more possibilities of how and where to go to find the next doors that may open to their future’s next chapter.” –Associate Professor of English and Communication, Teague Whalen, M.F.A.

Services:

The following services are available by appointment:

Faculty Spouse/Partner Job Search Assistance - if your spouse/partner is having a difficult time finding work in Juneau, Career Services is available to assist them with their job search

Career Coaching - students who are unsure of their career path and would like to explore their options

Resume Review - review and critique of resumes and cover letters

Employment - assistance in finding employment, navigating job posting websites, salary negotiation, and advanced marketing tools

Alumni - job search assistance and portfolio development

Internships

Strong emphasis is being placed on developing current and new internships with a focus of increasing the number of students participating for 2017-2018. Career Services networks actively with the USFS, State of Alaska, Juneau Chamber of Commerce, and local employers to develop internships for UAS students. A list of current internships can be found on the Internships link via the Career Services website.

What Students are Saying:

“This internship has made me feel like a contributing scientist and motivates me that much more towards my goal to do well in my classes. More than anything, this internship has shown me how important making connections are at UAS and in the field are, and how valuable they are not only to my research but also to my future career.” - Barb Dagata, Biology Research Intern

“Providing science education is a passion of mine, and the participation of live animal ambassadors adds a facet that enhances the tangibility and relatability for the audience. I loved presenting and interacting with live raptors.”
- Sidney Campbell, American Bald Eagle Foundation Intern
